A night to celebrate trailblazers, take a bold stand for equity and revel in the beauty and richness of South Florida arts and culture.

First But Not The Last is a night where we come together to celebrate a distinguished group of leaders who are trailblazers within their respective fields. This year’s event is inspired by the bold, beautiful arts and colors of South Florida’s various cultures. Our community’s diversity is our strength, and should be celebrated in all its glory.

Together with supporters such as yourself, this event helps YWCA South Florida improve the lives of thousands of people each year through local programming and services. None of our work would be possible without the support of partners, like you, who support our mission and community leaders.

There is no better place for our community to convene than in our vibrant and growing urban core. Join us as we pay tribute to all our past inductees and recognize our 3rd class of YWCA’s First But Not The Last Women Leaders of South Florida!
